Products & Services

Enterprise Hosting

There is a noticeable service gap in today's market for hosting services. Companies can either go with low-cost high volume hosting providers who provide poor service, or they can build out their own hosting environment with a significantly high entrance cost. Quonix fills this gap by providing businesses with competitively priced enterprise-level web and email hosting solutions. These are solutions that your 24x7 business environment can rely on.

Colocation Solutions

Our state-of-the-art datacenter supports colocation solutions from just a few rack units all the way to dedicated cage space. We have a solution for every business need. Our intelligently designed datacenter features redundant down-flow CRAC Liebert cooling utilizing a raised floor configuration to deliver cooling capacity to any location. Flexible power deliver system allows us to supply any type of power configuration to your rack from our fully redundant UPS and automatic generator bypass system. With FM200 fire suppression and impressive physical security you can be confident that your systems are well cared for. Proactive monitoring and other redundancy measures help Quonix offer a Service Level Agreement (SLA) of 99.999% uptime.

Managed Services

Quonix offers a variety of managed services that allow your business to out-source many technical support functions for equipment residing within our datacenter. We offer a comprehensive network-based backup and recovery system, managed firewall, equipment and software support, network monitoring, and email security service.
